

Constitutional Conservatives

If you are like us, you feel frustrated with the direction our country has gone over the last few decades. We believe that there is hope for America and for our communities, but that hope lies in returning to our roots in the Constitution and supporting morality and faith in God that allowed God to bless America with greatness. We believe that working together as communities we can find good, honest, moral people to represent us in the future. We need leaders who value the Constitution and freedom more than they value their own personal gain.

If you are interested in Joining us, please request to join the Facebook group “Constitutional Conservatives of Cedar Hills”, or email one of the local leaders and let them know of your interest:
